There visited the famous Brindavan Garden - the famous evening light show. The next day was a visit to Mysore Silk factory where students were explained the entire processing of silk threads and how variety of sarees are woven. The same day visit to Mysore zoo was planned. Its the second largest zoo in the country and has so many species that cannot simply be counted. The last schedule for the day was the Great Mysore Palace built

The entire architecture of the palace is well-planned and almost all the things in the palace are imported from countries all over the world. Lastly while moving to Bangalore on 2nd Feb, we visited the Summer palace of Tipu Sultan which stands as a monument of calmness amidst the heat of the south. Finally on the 3rd we were back to Mumbai.

This journey to south will remain close to our heart with loads of knowledge and enjoyment. My heartfelt Gratitude to the management of the college for giving the students opportunity to learn more about the practical world through such Industrial visits.

from other's about their career. These students start asking question to others like, " how did you plan for setting up your career ? " "What you did for getting success in your life ? " etc. But students don't ask questions to themselves So, my dear friends if you really want to achieve success or you want to live better life please avoid asking questions to others and ask questions to yourself.

Ask yourself what is my strength ? What is my speciality ? What kind of activity that I should do daily and how should I plan strategy to achieve my career goals? Think about yourself, give time to yourself. Your right decision and right choice give you bright career & better life !!!
