Criteria 7.1.1

Gender Equity

- At the institutional level, the college has a duly formed Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) that handles sexual harassment complaints. The institution makes every effort to make the campus a safe place for students of all genders. Female faculty and students are members of organizations.

- Women Development Cell (WDC), DLLE, and NSS, frequently conduct sensitization and awareness events on and off campus. The WDC's community outreach programs address the pressing reality of gender discrimination, bias, and unequal status of women in all walks of life, and thus make significant efforts to reach out to the community of women and girls outside the privileged environs of the college, as well as address the problems of girls and other women workers within the college.
- The safety of women on campus is of the utmost priority, and there are male and female guards on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week. CCTVs are deployed in all communal areas to maintain a safe campus, and admission to the campus is only with an identity card.
- Sanitary pad dispensers are available in the campus's girls' common rooms.
- Throughout the year, WDC organizes awareness and gender sensitization workshops. It holds lectures, panel discussions, and workshops to raise awareness of issues concerning women's safety and rights. Eminent speakers and experts have been invited to the college to educate female professors and students about their rights. Special sessions are held by legal professionals to raise awareness about problems such as abortion rights, marital rape, and so on.
- Health camps and discussions with famous doctors are conducted to raise awareness and regular body check-ups.
- Throughout the pandemic, we continued to work on gender sensitization. Several sessions were held online, and various social media sites, including Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, and Twitter, were used to raise awareness.
