Theatre is a verb before it is a noun, an act before it is a place” - Martha Graham Theatre and drama is an art form that has been going on for centuries all around the world. It is one of the most ‘human’ art forms where with your acting and script one can make change around oneself.

A Skit performance was organized in the Department of Mass Media & Communication Skills. Students of FYBAMMC formed groups and performed skits on various themes like Say No to dowry, Save Girl Child, Secularism etc, all giving wonderful messages to the society in general. The skit performance was attended by all our faculty members of the department and by the research scholars as well. The best part of the performance was that even while giving best of messages it included humor and fun, everybody’s participation and dedication and there was a range of themes performed. It was an immense pleasure to be a part of the performances as well as the audience. It was a great event. And, as Shakespeare quoted in ‘As you like it’, ‘If it be true that good wine needs no bush’, its true that a good play needs no epilogue.
